RIO GRANDE REPORT MADE

Shows Big Earnings During Year Just Past.

WESTERN PACIFIC CONTROL

ANNOUNCEMENT OF GOULD OWN-ERSHIP OFFICIALLY MADE.

Denver, Sept. 9.-The nineteenth an hual report of the Denver & Rio Grande Railroad company shows the total earnings for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1905, to have been $17,031,507, an increase of $585,073 over last year. The expenses for the year amounted to $10 .-168,900, making the net earnings $6,-

In the report of the president, E. T. Jeffery, it is officially announced that the control of the new Western Pacific has been placed in the hands of the Denver & Rio Grande, and that the new road will be a part of the system, which has its general offices in Denver. It has been generally known for some time that the Western Pacific was owned by the Gould interests but was owned by the Gould interests, bu his is the first official announcemen

The official announcement of the Ric Grande's control of the Western Pa-cific tells something which every one knew, and is significant mainly because it is the first time that the Gould ownership of the new road has been officially given forth.

In the planning preliminary to build-ing the Western Pacific, particularly that part which concerned Salt Lake terminals, Rio Grande officials have been prominent. A. C. Ridgeway, genbeen prominent. A. C. Ridgeway, general manager of the Rio Grande, and E. J. Yard, chief engineer of that road, have been particularly identified with these preliminary movements. Both these gentlemen were in Salt Lake all this week and they were working in part of the working in the control of the Witten. part on the question of the Western Pacific's entrance into the city.

MANY CHANGES ARE MADE

RECORD - BREAKING REGISTRA-TION EXPECTED TOMORROW.

A record-breaking first day school re-gistration tomorrow is expected by D. H. Christensen, city superintendent. So far as the High school is concerned, this is practically a certainty. An innovation this year was the fixing of three registration days during the past week, instead of leaving this work until the first school day, as was the practice formerly. Mr. Christensen announced yesterday that 800 pupils had already registered for the High school. He expects that fully 150 more will apply tomorrow, thus bringing 1,000 mark. Last year's registration for 1,000 mark. ast year's registration for the first day at the High school was only 725.

Indications are that the grade school also will have largely increased attendance. In fact, the problem of housing the school children is the most serious problem now confronting the board of education school children is the most serious problem now confronting the board of education.

Following the assignment of teachers, as announced yesterday, Mr. Christensen and his staff of assistants took up the work of mapping out the boundaries of the school districts. The many changes and "shifting around" made necessary last year by the congestion in the school buildings rendered imperative a readjustment of boundaries for this year. Mr. Christensen and Miss Myrtle A. Reilly, his secretary, assisted by a number of teachers and others, worked until midnight last night mapping out the boundaries and arranging them in a form that may easily be understood. In view of the fact that dozens of children, because of the overcrowding of buildings, were last year sent to schools outside the districts where they resided, Mr. Christensen announces that this year all pupils should apply tomorrow at the school in the district where they live. Transfers may be necessary later in some cases, but all should apply at the school where they properly belong.
